Measure C meets the criteria of the Orange County Business Council:

- ✓ Demonstrated Need
- ✓ Sound Expenditure Plan
- ✓ Prudent and Taxpayer Sensitive
- ✓ Fiscal Accountability: Oversight & Cost Containment
- ✓ Broad Support by Community Leaders and Elected Decision-Makers

Here's what the Orange County Treasurer has to say about Measure C:

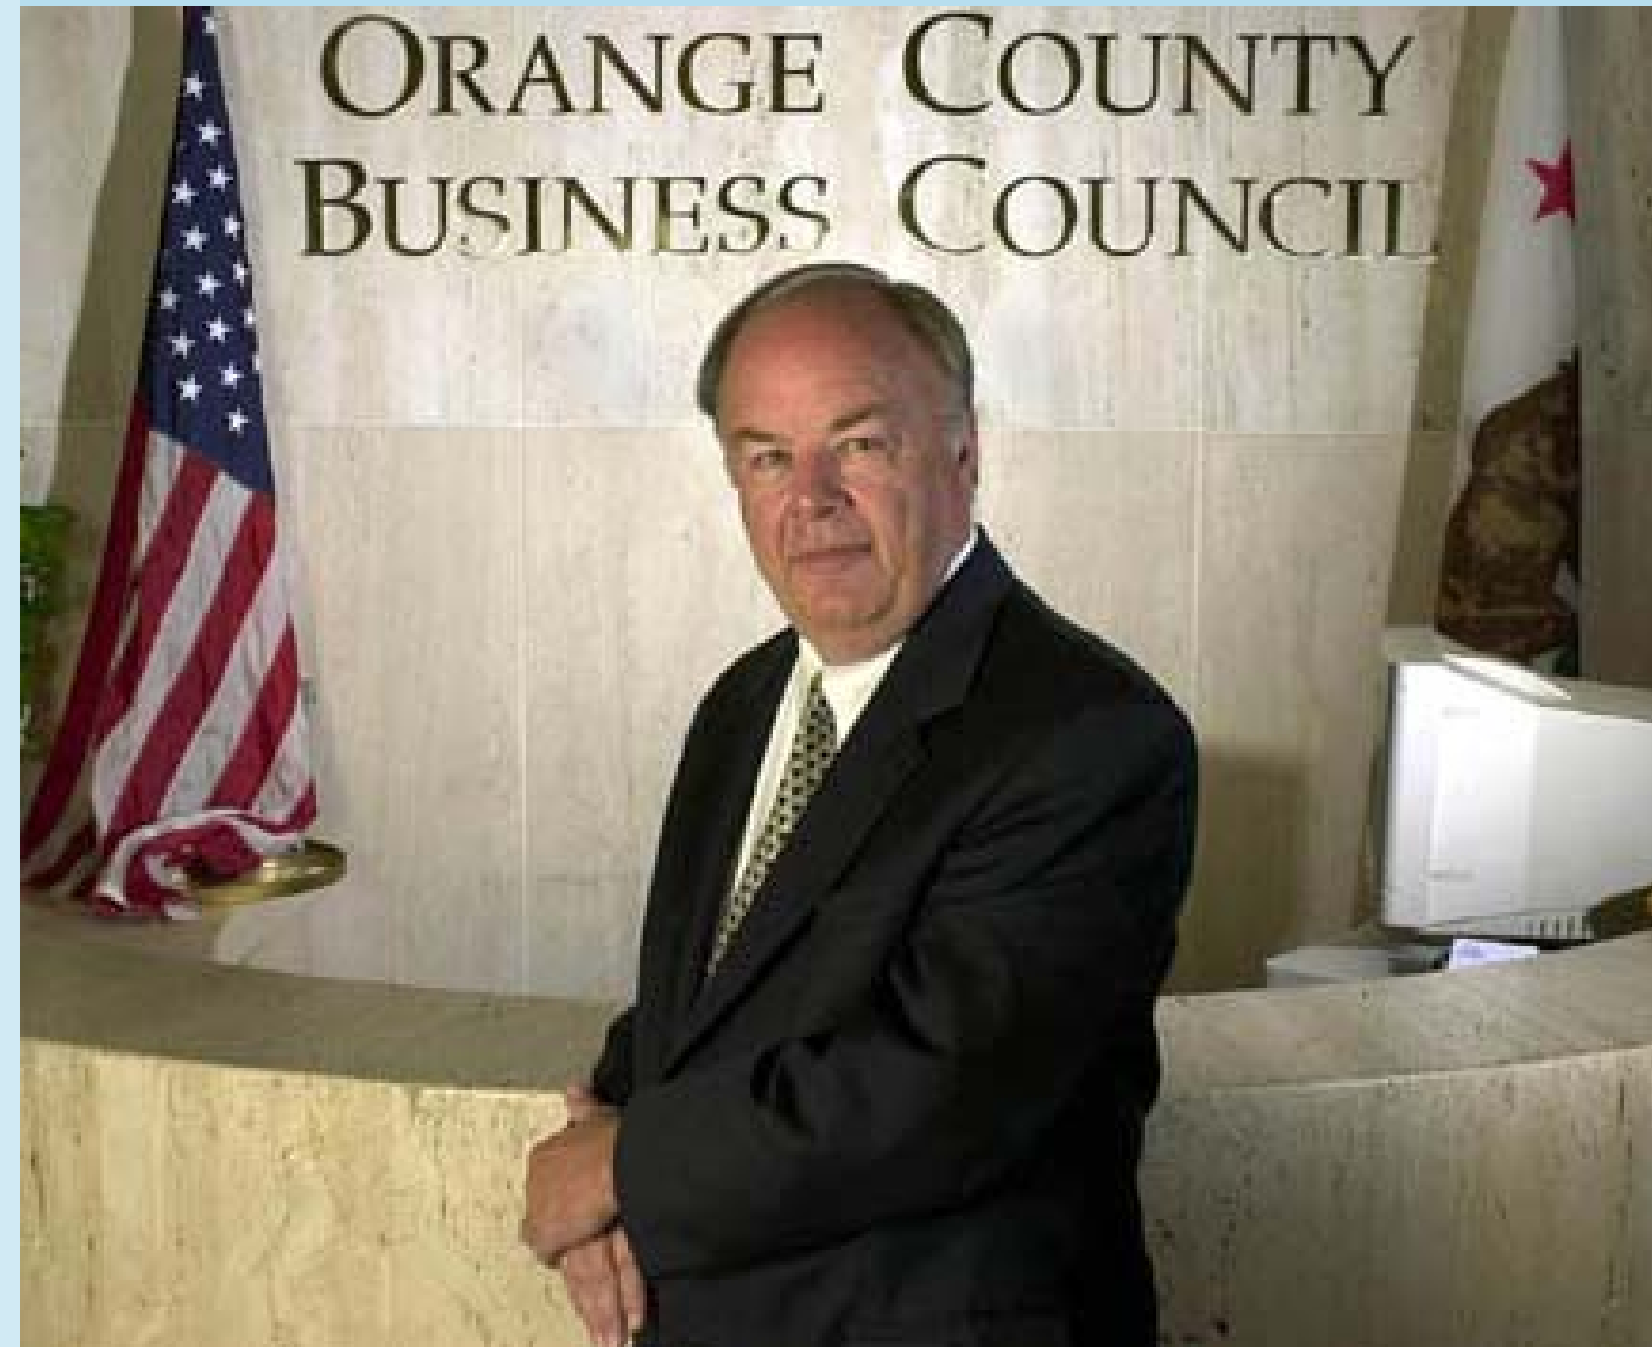

"I firmly believe that those registered voters in your District that intend to vote in favor of your Measure C can do so with a confidence that it is being pursued with professionalism and attention to detail."

John M.W. Moorlach, Orange County Treasurer

And, the Orange County Taxpayers Association Says:

"I am pleased to report that Measure C meets OCTax's criteria for school bond initiatives. OCTax believes that taxpayers who choose to vote for Measure C may do so with confidence that it is fiscally sound."

Reed L. Royalty, President OCTax

Help Orange Coast, Golden West and Coastline Community Colleges: Vote Yes on C Nov. 5th.

Measure C makes sense for taxpayers.

"Whatever you do, don't forget to vote YES on C."

For more than half a century, Orange Coast, Golden West and Coastline Community Colleges have provided excellent, affordable education to local students.

However, decades-old campus buildings threaten quality education. Classrooms, labs and libraries need upgrades to accommodate modern technology. Outdated fire safety equipment and drainage systems need replacement. Additional classrooms, laboratories and lecture halls are needed.

Measure C repairs and improves our Coast Community Colleges. Their needs are critical—and less expensive to address now than in the future.

Measure C's tough fiscal accountability requirements include annual financial and performance audits, with all expenditures monitored by an Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee to ensure funds are spent as specified in the Bond Plan.

The Bond Oversight Committee will include senior, taxpayer, and business representatives and finance and construction experts. NO Measure C funds can be spent on administrators' salaries.

We must ensure that future generations are receiving a quality education in safe, effective learning environments. In turn, quality community college facilities are critical to our County's economic prosperity.

Join us in voting YES on C November 5th.
